

IBM, AFCEA, and the PfP Consortium invite you to join us for a Transatlantic Security Jam: Securing the post COVID future

12 – 14 May 2020

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a swift and severe impact on our societies. In the midst of this pandemic, many of us are facing new challenges and are asking what is next. This exclusive online event will focus on how to secure the post COVID future. Over a period of 50 hours, members of the transatlantic security and defence community will come together for a unique brainstorm to address the current environment and the post COVID-19 future.

Conversation forums will convene to discuss:

- Competition for Influence:
In a world transformed by COVID-19
- NATO Mission and Core Tasks in Action:
Resilience, readiness and responsiveness
- Cooperation and Autonomy:
The global role of the EU post COVID-19
- Transatlantic Security, NATO-EU Relations:
Challenges and collaboration
- Technological and Industrial Edge:
Bringing technological and industrial cooperation to bear
- COVID-19 Relations with China:
Implications for NATO and the EU

The conversation forums will be hosted by:

